Free Family Concert -- "Turn Up The Learning"

Osceola School District's Prekindergarten Department and the Early Learning Coalition of Osceola County will present a free family concert entitled "Turn Up The Learning" with Jack Hartmann, a nationally-recognized children's singer, songwriter, author, keynote presenter, and workshop leader, on January 27, 2012, from 7:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. in the auditorium at Gateway High School, located at 93 Panther Paws Trail in Kissimmee. Parents and children are invited to join Jack as he presents music and movement activities that promote phonological awareness, reading, math, science, social skills, and physical fitness. During this lively, interactive concert, his songs will engage children in active learning while singing, moving, and building brain connections. Jack has written and recorded over 500 songs for children on 25 albums. He has also written a wonderful sea-life counting picture book for children titled Over In The Ocean. His highly-regarded educational songs are used by teachers and sung by children in schools all across the United States and around the world.

Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. Seating is limited, and will be based on first-come, first-served.

For more information, contact the Early Learning Coalition of Osceola County at 407-933-5353. Additional information about Jack Hartmann can be found at www.jackhartmann.com.
